

FALL RIVER MILLS ARE TIED UP BY STRIKE

KANSAS CITY RAILROAD STRIKE CALLED OFF

(By Associated Press)
Kansas City, Missouri, Dec. 1.—Suddenly and unexpectedly as it began Saturday the strike of 1500 railroad switchmen in the local yards was called off early today. The action was taken at a secret meeting which began yesterday and lasted for into the night. Reasons for the decision were not forthcoming, but it was understood in an announcement at the meeting that the strike was unauthorized and that strike benefits would be withheld had much to do with the final action.

TO MAKE PEACE PACT WITH HUNGARY

(By Associated Press)
Paris, Dec. 1.—An attempt to make a peace treaty with Hungary through the new Hungarian government was decided upon by the Supreme Council today. The council reached this decision after hearing the report of Sir Geo. Clerk, the Peace Conference emissary, who recently returned from Budapest. It was resolved to ask the government of Premier Huszar to send to Neuilly as soon as possible a Hungarian delegation empowered to negotiate peace.

FUND BEING RAISED FOR WAR SURVIVORS

Geneva, Nov. 29.—A public subscription fund is being raised for the families of 7700 Swiss killed during the war in French service. French officials statistics show that 8000 Swiss joined the French army and that all but 300 were killed in action or died. One Swiss exploit was the gallant stand made by 3000 men at Verdun. Though surrounded by several times their number, they held up a German advance for several valuable hours. The 1000 Swiss were killed to the last man.

Textile Workers Make Demand for a Twenty-Five Per Cent Increase in Wages.

(By Associated Press)
Fall River, Mass., Dec. 1.—Virtually all the textile mills of this city employing 38,000 operatives, were tied up today by a strike for a twenty-five per cent increase in wages. The demands were made by six unions of the National Amalgamation of Textile Operators numbering approximately 7000 and their leadership, as has been the case in previous strikes, was largely followed by unorganized workers. Many of the latter went to work as usual at the opening hour today, but left the mills when it appeared that the strike was effective. The United Textile Workers of America, an organization which has about 3000 members here, announced that it would take no formal part in the strike, but early reports indicated that many of its operatives had remained away from the mills. No disorder was reported.

New Bedford, Mass., Dec. 1.—Union textile operators here who threatened last week to strike today to enforce wage demands remained at work pending further negotiations with the cotton manufacturers. Nine of the fourteen unions affiliated with the Amalgamation of Textile Operators voted last night in favor of the strike, but the textile council ruled that ten unions were required to make up the necessary two-thirds vote and declared a proposal to defer the strike.

ALASKA TO FURNISH NEWSPRINT

(By Associated Press)
Ketchikan, Alaska, Dec. 1.—Alaska's pulp and paper stands on the threshold of its "paper era," according to a statement made by government officials and newspapers of this section.
Forests of this north country, it is predicted will soon be supplying pulp to mills now being served by eastern forests, which are gradually disappearing. According to reports here Alaska's wood pulp timber supply is greater than the supply of any other section of the United States.
"Alaska has enough timber to furnish half the newsprint paper in the United States for all time and with proper care the industry can be made everlasting," M. H. Flory, supervisor of the forest service of Alaska, declared here recently.

FIVE BILLIONS REQUIRED FOR GOVERNMENT USE

Washington, Dec. 1.—The record billion dollar Congress of ordinary peace times faded into the past today when Secretary Glass presented the budget estimated proposed appropriations of practically five billion dollars for conducting the peace time activities of the government during the fiscal year of 1921, giving the figures. It will cost more than five times as much to conduct the peace time affairs of the government as it did in the year immediately preceding the world war. Of course each individual estimate for expenditures go to the army and the navy. The yearly estimated interest on the war, however, is $1,017,500,000.00, which is greater than all the appropriations for propositions whatsoever of any peace time Congress. All in all the estimate justifies the prediction made on the floor of Congress during the consideration of war tax bills that the present changes would not see the government conducted at an estimate of less than four billion dollars a year.

TAKES COMMAND OF PORTSMOUTH NAVAL STATION

Flag of Rear Admiral Halstead Hoisted at 2.30 This Afternoon.

Rear Admiral Alexander S. Halstead, U. S. N., recently assigned to command the Portsmouth navy yard, assumed that command at 2.30 this afternoon. At that hour the official heads of the several departments, senior officers of ships, with master mechanics, quartermen and leadingmen, assembled in the commandant's office to greet the new commanding officer.
Shortly after the flag of Commander J. H. Sypher, acting commander, lowered and that of Rear Admiral Halstead hoisted with the customary salute of 13 guns and the music of the yard band.
Rear Admiral Halstead has been on waiting orders at New York since his return from Brest where he was senior officer at the United States naval base. He is a native of Pennsylvania and was appointed from that state. Commander Sypher has been in command of the station since the retirement of Rear Admiral Clifford J. Russell.

NOTICE

To the Voters of Portsmouth.—
I am a candidate for the office of Board of Public Works. I have been on your street for thirty years, most of the time every day in the year, you don't want to see my picture to know who I am. The picture is in a good many homes, if it is not, my good will is. I came here thirty years ago last month in October and am still young, and I ask you for your vote in this next election. If you feel so disposed to give it to me I will thank you. If not, give it to the other fellow. I am your friend just the same. You know there are many offices to be filled each year and as many hold office holders seem to want to come in each year. Some of these old holders of city office will ask the city to pension them after a while if you don't look out. I don't want any pension and what I can do for Portsmouth and its citizens is the best I can. I am elected. It seems as though the City committee has not room on the official ballot for my name. You have a right to vote just how you please. You can write my name or use a sticker if you wish, and I would like to tell you for the past twenty years I gave you all the important news, such as election returns, baseball scores and important news on my bulletin board free of charge and you got them twenty hours before seeing them in newspaper print. In my time in Portsmouth I handled 82 different boys, 14 of them learned the telegraph business, 51 made good the balance died.
It is a shame that people have to look and walk over some of our broken down sidewalks, especially in front and around your Public Library, it is not fit to look at and others in the heart of the city that you are compelled to walk over has not been looked after since Washington, Lafayette and Webster visited your town back in the dark ages. You must remember there are some good people living behind the curbstone of these walks who pay their taxes year in and year out, and all the benefit they get is what their grandfather told them how he romped over the same old sidewalk on his way to school when he was a boy. I have served two years as Councilman at large, one year in the democratic administration and one year under the Republican, so you see I have graduated in both branches and as for running again in the council at large I will not. I am DONE. One of the greatest questions of today is up before your city council, that is a sanitary place to relieve the call of Nature. Thousands of people hob in and hob out daily like bees in a beehive from your storekeepers place of business and in all the hotels. Six gallons of water at one flush, the meter calls the number and the landlord's pay the water bill. Wouldn't that far you? Why not give these people a rebate on their water-bill?

URGE AMERICAN DELEGATES TO DELAY DEPARTURE

Fear Their Departure From Paris Before the Protocol is Signed Would be Misconstrued.

Paris, Dec. 1.—The French representatives in the peace conference are urging the American delegates to delay their departure for home until the protocol is signed putting into effect the peace treaty with Germany. It was learned today.
Although today was the date set for the exchange of ratifications of the treaty, no definite news was at hand regarding the intentions of the German government as to the signing of the protocol in which they are expected to guarantee the carrying out of the armistice conditions. The supreme council this morning adopted the terms of a reply to this recent German note regarding the prisoners of war. The contents of the note, however, were not given out. The feeling in French circles which is shared by some of the other delegation is that the departure of the American delegates at this time would be misinterpreted in Germany as a sort of abandonment of the conference although it would in no wise change the relations of the United States towards that body.

LATEST NOTE TO MEXICO IS VERY POINTED

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Dec. 1.—Renewing its request for the immediate release of Consul Agent Jenkins, imprisoned at Puebla, the latest American note to Mexico made public here today arraigns the Mexican government's conduct in severe terms and characterized it as a studied attempt to ensnare the American Consul Agent in the intricacies of legal proceedings. No ultimatum was served and no indication was given to what the American government's course would be. It is being immediately released, the note begins by saying the United States declined to be drawn into judicial discussion of "irrelevant or unimportant matters" answers the request for the Consul Agent's release. It is founded on "right and just," the United States note says, is "constrained to the opinion" that Carranza's arguments with the case is being investigated and that Jenkins is not taking opportunity to be released on bail on "mere excuses." This government does not admit, the note says, that it is necessary to keep Jenkins in jail while his case is being investigated and this government fails to discern "that the intricacies of the Mexican Penal Law" have been applied with impartial effect to Jenkins. The Mexican government cannot argue that it cannot interfere with the judicial processes of a state unless there has been a denial of justice, the American note declares, because it contends there already has been a denial of justice and the Mexican constitution extends the power of federal government to "all cases concerning consular officers and diplomatic agents." The United States is not to be driven by "such subtle arguments" says the note "into a defensive of its own request for the release of Mr. Jenkins. It is for Mexico to show cause for his detention, not for the United States to show cause for his liberation." The note says the only conclusion this government can draw is that Mexico has made "a studied effort" to ensnare Jenkins in legal intricacies to divert the attention of both American and Mexican people from the fact that the second largest city in Mexico is overrun by bandits. "It appears," says the note, "to have been the proposition of the Mexican government to assume an indifference

TO BE GOVERNED BY ACTION OF UNITED STATES

(By Associated Press)
Buenos Aires, Nov. 30.—Reservations on the Treaty of Versailles, which the United States may approve, are going to determine the course of government of all the nations of South America, according to Senor Yanez, head of the Chilean commercial mission, which has arrived here on its way home. In an interview with the Associated Press Senor Yanez expressed the hope that all Latin American nations would make common cause with the United States, and that any objection to amendments or reservations which might be passed would be subordinated to the end that the spirit of unity of the Americans might be maintained.

MUCH WORK CONFRONTS THE NEW CONGRESS

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Dec. 1.—Many months' work on a great variety of important subjects, international and domestic, were before the new congress today when it met for its second and regular session, which was expected to close only with the presidential campaign next fall.

Members of both senate and house returned to work with only ten days' rest since the adjournment of the extraordinary session which ended on November 19, when the peace treaty failed of ratification in the senate. Because of the extra session the opening day lacked much of the usual bustle attending the launching of a new session.

With the congress already in "hurry" with much legislation ready for immediate consideration, little delay in the beginning of work was expected. Calling of quorum and house rolls for quorum, appointment of committees to notify the President and each other that congress again was on the job, were among the customary opening formalities.

House legislative recommendations President Wilson's message was expected to deal with international relations and particularly with the treaty of Versailles. While early ratification of the treaty with compromised reservations was expected by many senators, with hopes of action before the next year, leaders believed the measure involved would be carried into the presidential campaign.

Efforts to do to play a large part in the events of the new session, the day before the opening convention next summer and the final campaign in the fall. Leaders propose to have congress recess for the conventions and work through afterwards into the month of October.

Enactment of legislation is expected to begin immediately. The senate today had pending with privileged status the Cullinane railroad bill with its provisions against strikes and for the return of the railroads to private ownership. In the house, the bill to restrict immigration and to provide for deportation of alien criminals was the first on the calendar. The house probably will be occupied largely with the appropriations bills for many weeks and leaders hope to enact many measures before the holiday adjournment, to begin about December 20 and continue to January 5.

Long debate on the railroad bill in the senate was anticipated and leaders had little hope of its enactment before January 1, the date on which the President has said the roads would be returned to private operation. A temporary resolution continuing guaranteed compensation for the carriers until permanent legislation is completed will be passed if necessary.

Among the measures expected to be completed this month are the oil, coal, gas and phosphate land leasing bill and the Edge measure authorizing the formation of corporations to advance and finance American export trade. Both bills are now in conference.

Besides the treaty of Versailles several other treaties are pending and promise to excite long senate debate. Three treaties, one guaranteeing assistance to France in event the German aggression that establishing Poland and detaching the Rhine frontier and the long pending $25,000,000 Colombia pact, are pending before the Foreign Relations Committee.

The peace treaty with Austria also is expected to be ready for transmission by the President soon. The committee also has before it the resolution of Republican Leader Lodge proposing that congress by concurrent resolution declare the war with Germany ended. This will be fought vigorously by the administration. Early action on the French treaty is not planned by the committee majority but the Polish treaty, the leaders say, will be pressed.

Among other important international matters pending or in prospect are the house bill to repeal the ACondon reciprocity treaty and commercial conventions and trade extension arrangements with the allies, the enemy countries, and other nations.

On the legislative calendar are a number of measures already passed by congress or house. These include bills establishing a federal budget system, providing a permanent shipping policy, regulating cold storage of food products, and providing for development of water power.

Special legislation promises to have a prominent place in the work of congress. General tariff revision and the modification of the International revenue laws are planned before the political campaign. Repeal of many war taxes will be proposed and anti-dumping bills to protect American manufacturers are pending. Permanent army reorganization policies, incorporating the most drastic of universal training soon are to be brought out by the senate and house military committees with the committee. Just pass on a new building program and on bills increasing the navy's personnel and its pay.

Proposed among the other measures to be taken up are those dealing with radical aliens and anarchists and the high cost of living. The Lane bill embodying Secretary Lane's plan, of farms for soldiers and sailors also is up for passage and congress will attempt revision of several standing laws and repeal of the espionage and other war measures.

Numerous investigations also are planned, estate inquiries into Mexican affairs and the coal, wheat and sugar situations will continue while the house will carry out its investigations of war department activities.

SIGNOR SORRENTINO COMING THURSDAY

Signor Sorrentino will sing tonight of December 4 at the Portsmouth Theatre, and, according to the local promoter indications point to a crowded house.

The artist is famous the world over for his wonderful singing and personality. There is everything that is colorful about young Sorrentino's voice. It is of power and yet capable of tender delicacy. His voice is lyric in quality, abounding in temperament, and exquisitely manipulated. First there is natural beauty and then art. He has been marked for success by his splendid singing, which is that of a star, the like of which flashes a very few times in a generation.

He will sing in English and Italian. Selections from operas and popular airs. A young Irish soprano, Miss MacLaurion, will alternate with him and make of the musical an event never to be forgotten by the music lovers of this city.

The Christmas signs, "Mall early, wrap securely, write plainly," have appeared in the vestibule of the local office.

HESSE WINS CROSS COUNTRY MARATHON

Carl T. Hesse, an employee of the Atlantic Corporation, easily defeated all his opponents in the Rockingham county cross country marathon held under the auspices of the local Y. M. C. A. on Saturday afternoon. The course was a little over 1-1/2 miles in length and considering the condition of the roads after the recent rains, Hesse's time is considered fast. Frank Lord and John J. Heagan finished second and third, respectively, a few yards separating them. Albert Hicks finished fourth and Harold "Lefty" Bridle surpassed the other contestants by finishing fifth. All the contestants finished.

At the onset of the starter's pistol Hesse took the lead and was never overtaken. He kept the same steady stride throughout the whole course and finished apparently as fresh as at the start. Joe Marlen held second place for two miles or more but Joe had gone a little too heavy at the soon day trial and consequently could not hold the fast clip he was making. George Ryan ran well but the course was a little too long for him to keep up his position. Frank Lord, John Heagan and Albert Hicks had a close race after the third mile, each passing one another. Special mention should be made as to "Lefty" Bridle finishing fifth. He was the smallest contestant in the race and ran well. A Hicks kept the same easy stride throughout the course.

The prizes given were well worth the running for. The first silver loving cup donated by the Women's Auxiliary of the Association, and the third prize, a sweater, given by N. H. Denner, the fourth, a sofa pillow given by H. Clyde Mangerson, and fifth prize a pair of running shoes, contributed by William P. Woods.

The race occurred at 3 o'clock and created no end of interest both at the start and finish, especially at the finish when over two hundred people eagerly watched the men. Fred Hicks acted as starter and Judge Hesse won in the fast time of 26 minutes and 28 seconds.

NO PROSPECTS OF SETTLEMENT OF R. R. STRIKE

(By Associated Press)
Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 30.—All prospects of an early settlement of the unauthorized strike of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen were on their way out of the question, it is learned following a secret meeting of 1000 members of the Brotherhood here today. The majority of the members were opposed to any change and voted to continue the walk out.

Kansas City, Nov. 30.—500 representative citizens of the Kansas cities, at a mass meeting held here this afternoon adopted a resolution requesting that federal troops be sent to both cities as a result of the nation-wide strike of the soft coal miners made worse here by the strike of the railroad trainmen.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 30.—Authority to call out the state troops in connection with the strike of the train and yard railroad men in Kansas city was conferred on Adj. General Clarke of Missouri by Governor Frederick G. Gardner of that state today.

SENATOR INDICTED FOR ELECTION FRAUD

Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 30.—Truman H. Newberry, United States Senator from Michigan, was indicted by a United States Grand Jury Saturday for corruption, fraud and conspiracy in connection with the election by which he obtained his seat in the Senate, defeating Henry Ford, his Democratic opponent.

With Senator Newberry 123 other persons were indicted by the Grand Jury on the same charge. The names of all except twelve most prominent were withheld from publication by Judge Clarence W. Sessions, presiding, until warrants could be served on them. Among those named were W. A. Hopkins, of St. Clair, Mich., Assistant Secretary of the United States Senate; John S. Newberry, brother of the Senator of Detroit, and Paul H. King, of Detroit. King was manager of the Newberry campaign committee.

The others named were Allan K. Tompkins, of Detroit, president of the Newberry Campaign Committee; Frederick Smith, of Detroit, manager of the Newberry estate; Charles A. Floyd, of Detroit, formerly County Clerk of Wayne County, and Harry O. Turner, of Detroit.

Judge Sessions indicated that the evidence before the Grand Jury disclosed the fraudulent expenditure of between $500,000 and $1,000,000 in connection with the election.

Two blank indictments were returned dealing with the primary and election campaigns of 1915, in which Henry Ford was Senator Newberry's chief opponent.

The first indictment charged that both federal and State laws were violated in that sums far in excess of legitimate expenses were used in the campaign. The second indictment cited the affidavits which Senator Newberry made while serving at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, in which he swore that no campaign money had been spent by him or with his knowledge. This affidavit, the indictment charged was a part of a general conspiracy to aid the Senator to obtain office illegally and to add him also in concealing violations of election statutes.

PINCH FOR COAL MAY FORCE ACTION

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Nov. 30.—The pinch of the coal shortage was more pronounced tonight and it may force the adoption of drastic means to avert an actual famine. A vacation of one month on the part of the coal miners has brought about a condition similar to that during the war, but the war restrictions have not been so effective in saving the diminishing coal pile.

Nashua, N. H., Nov. 30.—The controlling interest in the Telegraph Publishing Company, which publishes the Daily Telegraph, the only daily newspaper in Nashua, has been sold to a Boston syndicate. It is stated the new owners will come here and take the leading positions on the paper.

The controlling interest has been owned by Fred W. Estabrook, New Hampshire Republican National Committeeman and Ex-Gov. S. W. McCall of Massachusetts. The paper, which has always been Republican, was established by the late Congressman Owen C. Moore and Clark M. Langley, about 50 years ago.

Mr. Estabrook bought out, with associates, the interests of the estate of Congressman Moore about 20 years ago. It is the most important newspaper change in New Hampshire in the last seven years. It is understood the policy of the paper will remain the same.

The seal, somewhat larger in size than a silver dollar, shows on one side the seated figure of the republic, with the inscription "French Republic, Democratic, One and Indivisible." On the other side are the words: "In the Name of the French People" surrounded by a wreath of oak leaves encircled by the republican device "Liberty, Equality, Fraternity."

The seal is imprinted by means of a hand-worked stamping machine, resembling a letter copying press.

10,000 SAILORS ARE RELEASED

Washington, Nov. 30.—Approximately 10,000 men have secured or requested discharge from the navy, it was learned today, since the issuance of an order Oct. 8 permitting discharge of men who enlisted after Aug. 29, 1916, under a regulation designed to place them on the same footing with duration-of-the-war enlistments. About 12,000 four-year-term men were given opportunity of discharge under this order.

The 10,000 discharges in this group indicated to date reduces the enlisted strength of the navy to about 65,000, or 55 per cent of the strength authorized to Jan. 1. Officials at the Navy Department today said depletion of the enlisted personnel could not be remedied until Congress granted an increase in pay.

TREATY WILL BE SIDETRACKED FOR A TIME

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Nov. 30.—A new effort to compromise on the ratification of the Peace Treaty, is expected to follow closely the reconvening of Congress tomorrow, but discussion among the remaining senators revealed little optimism that the senate will give it any consideration at least for a week. In the absence of information as to what will be the President's attitude which will be shown in his message to Congress on Tuesday, leaders in the senate were firm in their stand that they will go ahead on long delayed legislation which the country is crying for. It is agreed generally that the work will be carried on in conference and that the usual business will be carried on in the senate floor.

If Tax Payers Should Organize.

In these days of increasing organization, it is interesting to think what might happen if the tax payers of the country should decide to combine for self-protection against rapidly rising taxes caused by freer and freer expenditure of the public money and fatter and fatter appropriations to meet the expenditures.

While it is hardly to be expected that such a thing will happen, the thought is suggested by what took place in Boston a few days ago, when the Real Estate Exchange raised its voice in connection with the proposed increase in the pay of the public school teachers. It had been proposed to grant the teachers a flat increase of $600 a year, a step which if taken would mean much to the tax payers. The real estate men passed a resolution opposing the flat increase and the corresponding increase of $5 in the tax rate which it would entail, and upholding the stand taken by the mayor of the city and the school committee.

What the result of this action will be remains to be seen, but the fact that the tax payers have reached the point where they feel that they should be heard is not without significance. It is they who foot the bills, and they have not been in the habit of complaining; but constantly increasing expenditures, with no curtailment, and no disposition to curtail, in sight, has apparently brought them to the conclusion that it is time to make themselves heard.

There is no room for doubt that today much legislation is enacted and many appropriations are made in response to the demands of organized bodies who represent, or are supposed to represent, strength at the polls which is not to be overlooked. This is not a healthy condition, but that it exists every person knows, and none better than the members of the organizations who wield their power for their own benefit as autocratically as the old-fashioned farmer wielded his ox whip.

And why, it might be asked, should not those who as tax payers foot the bills have something to say with reference to public expenditures which, in many cases at least, are nothing short of prodigal? This organization and that organization comes forward with a call for increased wages, increased salaries, and increases in the lists of officials, and if the organization is large enough to command attention it gets it speedily and deferentially from the city council, the state legislature and from Congress.

If now the real estate owners and other substantial tax payers of the country should band together for the purpose of forming what might be called the "balance wheel" of the machine there might be interesting developments. If members of appropriating bodies knew they were being watched and that a too lavish dispensing of the public funds would be liable to produce unwelcome results at the polls, the chances are that the demands for questionable appropriations would be more carefully weighed.

The American people are not disposed to be small in the matter of expenditures, private or public, but those who have to bear the brunt of the tax burden are questioning whether it is not about time to check the prodigality which is constantly and rapidly swelling town, municipal and state debts to uncomfortable and even alarming proportions.

It is somewhat remarkable that no Thanksgiving turkey was sent to President Wilson this year and that the bird for the White House table had to be procured at the market. According to a Washington dispatch this is the first time such a thing has happened in many years, and it can hardly be attributed to spite, for notwithstanding all that has happened the President still has his friends.

INMATES OF CHILDREN'S HOME INVITED TO MATINEE

A thoughtful act and one much appreciated was done by the women employees of the Internal Revenue office Saturday afternoon, who provided tickets for the inmates of the Children's Home and chaperones for "Daddy Longlegs" at the Colonial theatre.

It was a real letter event for the children, some of whom had never been to a moving picture show and this was a picture which would bring joy to the heart of any child. The management of the home feel deeply grateful for the kind-hearted people who remember the little folks and if it were realized what it means to the children it seems as if these real letter events would come to them from different sources more than once in a while. Let us hope before long other people who like to dispense good cheer will remember the little ones.

FISHERMEN WIN IN FIGHT AGAINST CLOSED SEASON ON THE LOBSTER

The York County fishermen and the Commissioners of Sea and Shore Fisheries met in a hearing at Biddeford on Saturday which was called to determine whether or not the Commission of Sea and Shore Fisheries would declare a closed time on lobsters within the waters which are in short these of this section of the state especially of York county.

A large number of the newly formed York County Fishermen's Association were present and were represented during the hearing by Judge Geo. L. Emery and John P. Deering.

Commissioners Harry W. Wilbur and William Oris conducted the hearing.

Judge Deering asked about the number of days and weeks put in by the fishermen. Mr. Wilbur stated that at times there had been six in this county but not all the time and that it was as a general rule not over four, if four. He said that there were places farther down the coast where less waters were needed and that fishermen lived up to the law in a better manner in some places than in others. In some places the pirates were outlawed. Upon being asked to compare the number of convictions locally with those in other sections, he stated that he thought that there had not been a greater number here. In proportion, Judge Deering stated that the association and other fishermen had heard reasons why there should and should not be a closed time and that they came from other sources than the commission heard its reports from. He suggested that some other mode of action might be taken and that the innocent should not suffer if possible to prevent it.

Judge Emery next addressed the gathering, stating that they were not there to determine the wisdom, worth or lawfulness of the statute but to discuss whether a well established industry should be stopped. He spoke of his intimacy with the situation and said he knew many of the fishermen. "Pirates have no place in this association," the judge stated. The keynote, it appeared to him, was that there had always been a misunderstanding and that was probably because there never had been an organization of fishermen to look out for their own interest. He said that he had continually urged cooperation for the better enforcement of the law. He spoke of the eastern coast smelter, passing by for Boston, and that it was a temptation for local fishermen to violate the law. "The road men must be given a show and the pirate weeded out," he said in behalf of the association and he stated that it wanted a chance to go ahead and to cooperate.

Mr. Wilbur stated that an honest organization could be formed and that the result should be very pleasing. It would be a good thing for the men in many ways. "If it means business and means to catch the pirate it would be fine," he stated. He suggested the appointment of wardens from amongst their number by the fishermen themselves and assured them that the Boston smelter business was being carefully watched.

Commissioner Oris now addressed the meeting. He stated that he himself was a fisherman and that he had been disgusted with the situation and was trying to meet every man half-way and to impart those things which he felt were very important. He thought it an easy matter when appointed a commissioner to then talk with the fishermen and lobstermen but there was a wide gap. He asked for a general amiable understanding and felt that it could somehow be accomplished. He spoke of his noting the influence of the father on his children and the moral make-up of the future generation. It was up to every man to be square.

Judge Deering said that the association had planned to meet at 7.30 o'clock in the evening and that they were going to cooperate. He asked for a dismissal or postponement of the matter.

At the close of the hearing it was intimated to the lobstermen that no closed time will be ordered in the county by the commission at present. The fishermen were jubilant, as they had declared that their business would be ruined if the closed time order was given for the York County zone.

LOOKS LIKE A HOT FIGHT IN YORK COUNTY

Six Now in Race for Congress in First Maine District.

The Congressional fight over in York County appears to be getting more lively every day and with the sixth man now for the primaries of 1920 it promises to be interesting for the Republicans.

The latest hat in the ring is that of Frank D. Marshall of Portland formerly of York and a big owner in the Marshall House Corporation who filed his bid in the arena on Saturday.

The others are John Kendrick Bangs of Ogunquit, noted wit, author and lecturer; Howard Davies of Yarmouth, State Senator; Carroll L. Beedy, county attorney of Cumberland; Joseph W. Simpson of York; Horace Mitchell of Kittery. Congressman Louis J. Gendall of Sanford will retire without contest at the end of the present term. It is understood that Simpson will withdraw in favor of Marshall.

DECLINED A PEERAGE

London, Dec. 1.—When Arthur J. Balfour was recently made Lord President of the Council, after giving up his post as Minister of Foreign Affairs, he was offered a peerage which he declined, according to published reports. It is stated that Mr. Balfour desired to remain a member of the House of Commons so long as his political career lasts.

ITALIAN KING IS RECEIVED WITH CHEERS

(By Associated Press)

Rome, Dec. 1.—When King Victor Emmanuel entered Parliament today to deliver his speech from the throne, he was received with loud cheers. Premier Nitti, requested the audience to be seated. Upon this the extreme socialists shouted "Viva socialist!" and left the Chamber. Their seats were immediately taken by other deputies. The king in his speech said that the confidence and sympathy of the nation were indispensable to the Parliament as was national collaboration in all movements for the good of the people. Italy, he said, after her great victory, must direct all her efforts to the works of peace. Italy, through the war, contained the King, and gained her national frontiers, but not all of her aspirations, he declared were considered everywhere in a spirit of justice. The implications of Italy in the Adriatic he asserted did not elude any military design and for the most part possessed no economic value. "We have no interlarded views," continued the Majesty, "and intend in no way that the peace of Europe should be disturbed."

CONGRESS CONVENES

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Dec. 1.—The 66th Congress met today in its first regular session which was expected to continue until just before the presidential election next fall. There was a large attendance both in the Senate and House when the ravels of Vice President Marshall and Speaker Gillette left promptly at noon, in accordance with an agreement reached between Republican and Democratic leaders, before the session opened the usual formality of appointing a committee to notify the president that Congress was in session, was dispensed with because of the President's illness. A formal committee of notification was substituted instead.

BURGLAR ROBS

KITTERY HOUSE

Ransacks Residence of George Seaward in Fifteen Minutes.

Mr. Bury, burglar, came back to Kittery, for a short while, on Saturday night just long enough to rob the residence of George Seaward off Government street, near the entrance of the navy yard highway bridge. The job was in line with all the rest of his work. He applied the jimmy to a side window, went in, pulled down all the curtains and ransacked the several rooms. All this was done in fifteen minutes. While the occupants of the house were out and it is evident that the burglar was working when Mr. and Mrs. Seaward returned. Mrs. Seaward on entering the house remarked that the curtains had been drawn and as she and her husband started to investigate the burglar quietly left by the back door taking with him silverware, rings, pipes, chains and other jewelry. Deputy Sheriff James Boardman worked on the case Saturday night and Sunday. No other breaks were reported in the town that night.

DOG GIVES ALARM AND BURGLAR QUITS

Frightened From Summer St. House Early on Sunday Morning.

Burglars attempted to enter the residence of Mrs. Michael E. Long on Summer street early on Sunday morning. The barking of a dog in the house aroused the inmates and the burglar's work on one of the rear windows was checked. Two men were on the job and made their escape through the yard residence.

Your Baby!

Your baby is the "dearest, cutest" baby in the world. He will only be a baby once—and during that period—when he gives you so much joy and you are so solicitous concerning his appearance and comfort—he should be seen by others when at his best, riding in the best, the most comfortable and most beautiful carriage that money will buy.

Thousands of years ago Moses was found by the King's daughter, at the edge of the river Nile. He was in a woven basket. The basket was made by hand. Baby baskets have been made by hand ever since—only today they put wheels under them and call them baby carriages. There has not been a single improvement from Moses' time until within a short time, but this gap of thousands of years was bridged at a single giant stride when the loom made carriages came into existence. Beside the loom made Lloyd carriages, Margeson Brothers want you to see the Whitney carriages and go-carts. We have other things which you will want for your baby, bassinets, cribs and mattresses, nursery chairs and high chairs.

CLASS OF 1913 HAS PLEASANT REUNION

Enjoy Dinner, Dancing and General Good Time at the Portsmouth Country Club on Saturday Evening.

The class of 1913 Portsmouth High School had a most successful reunion at the Portsmouth Country Club on Saturday evening over thirty of a class of fifty-nine graduates being present. The members of the class met at the high school at six o'clock and were conveyed to the Country Club by automobile.

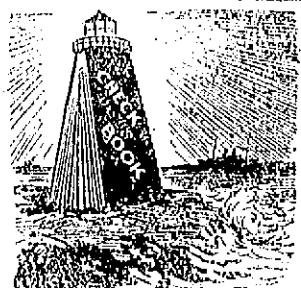

Arriving at the Club House, the classmates renewed old acquaintances and then sat down to a dinner prepared by the Waiters Alliance. The menu was:

Soup	Oysters
Roast Turkey, Cranberry Sauce	Mashed Potatoes
Creamed Onions	Spinach
Ice Cream	Coffee

After the dinner, President Norman E. Hand presided and in well chosen words welcomed the members of the class together again. He also read letters of regret from graduates who were unable to be present. The class prophecy written by Harold Burleigh Wendell was read and caused considerable mirth, inasmuch as quite a few of the prophecies had come true.

Ray A. MacDonald, the class orator, was the next speaker and he in a fitting address presented Miss Pauline Frink a silver loving cup for being the class baby. Mrs. Phyllis Suggden Frink, the mother, accepted the cup.

Vice President Marion T. Craig and Philip H. Sanderson, now of New York City, also made a few remarks. The concluding speaker of the evening was Miss Helen Robinson, who during the World War was a nurse and served with the famous Harvard Unit in France. Miss Robinson spoke of her experiences particularly of the return of the Allies in March 1918 prior to the Americans coming in with their timely assistance. Dancing was then enjoyed until midnight, music being furnished by a three piece orchestra.

This team played here two weeks ago and made such a favorable impression that the management was requested to book them back at the earliest possible period. We are advised that Portsmouth people are in for some real classy music during the coming winter season as Mr. Dow is in touch with some of the biggest and best known orchestras around Boston and New York City. We might add without stretching our imagination that this city gets a bigger variety of orchestras and better dance music than any other city in New England.
